Sept. 3. In an Evening Paper of Saturday last it is said, that Lord North, through the Mediation of Lord Holland, is indefatigable in forming a Coalition of Parties against the ensuing Session. Though Lord Chatham and his Friends still keep aloof, the Marquis of Rockingham and his Party have listened to the Proposals, and Mr. Burke has, in Consequence of these Overtures, been in Conservace with Lord Holthese Overtures, been in Conserence with Lord Hol-land several Times within this Fortnight past, parti-cularly on Tuesday last, for above Four Hours. What the Plan of Accommodation is, has not yet trans-

the River Larga, I was apprized that they had been joined by another sery numerous Body, commended by the Grand Vizir in Person, who tiad passed the Danube, About Eight o'Clock in the Evening they fixed their Camp at a Mile's Diffuse from use At first all their Camp at a Mile's Diffence from usuc At first all'the Tartars possed themselves over lagainst our letter Wing, but foon after they extended themselves to our Rear. Though I had but just before detached a considerable Body, of our Trooph, to escort a convoy of Provisions coming from Palici, and who were then sogged with the Enemy, who had falled upon the Rear of the Convoy, I nevertheless determined to prevent their Design, by attacking the Camp, considering more the Valour lot your Margely's Troops than the Inequality of Numbers. At Five o'Clock the next Morning I was attended to find that they had sortified their Camp, during the Night, with no less than Three Intrenchments, stronger than those from whence the Chan had been forced out. Never have your Majesty's Troops sought a Battle which was more obstinately disputed than this. They forced their Way to the Camp, through a numerous Body of the Enemy, among whom were the bravel of the Janissaries, who received and surrounded us at about a Quarter of a Mile from their Intrenchments. bout a Quarter of a Mile from their Intrenchments. The Fire from their Batteries and Small-Arms continued Five Hours without Intermission; however, at Nine, by the Help of our Artillery; but more especially by the united Force of our Bayonets, we broke through the First Intrenchment. I did not perceive the Enemy shewed any Want of Bravery in their Defence, 'til they faw their Infantry brifkly repulsed by our brave Troops in every Sally. Imploring, on this Occasion, the Assistance of the Alazighty, I again charged with all our Forces, and at length made Way to their last Intrenchment, which they were unable to defend any longer. The Grand Viur then, with all his Troops, among whom was the Polish Rebel Potorski, sled with the utmost Precipitation towards Potoriki, fied with the utmost Precipitation towards the Danube, about 20 Miles from the Field of Battle. The whole Camp, with all their Tents, Equipages innumerable, and Artillery, confisting of 143 Pieces of Brass Cannon, together with all their Ammunition, and above 7000 Carriages, loaded with Provisions, fell into our Hands. To conclude, I intreat your Management and to compare the Conduct of your Into our Hands. To conclude, I intreat your Majeffy to permit me to compare the Conduct of your Troops, in this Action, to the Behaviour of the ancient Romans; for, like them, your Majeffy's Troops do not enquire how ftrong the Enemy is, but only, where they may be found.

"Brigadler Oferoff, whom I have dispatched with the News of this important Event, is the Person who, in my Sight, at the Head of his Regiment of Grenadiers, repulsed the last and most furious Effort of the Janissaries, and pursued them with equal Intrepidity and Speed, which first opened our Way to Victory; therefore I thought myself bound by Duty and Justice therefore I thought myself bound by Duty and Justice to prefer him to the Honous of waiting upon your Majesty with the earliest Intelligence of it."

From the same Quarter the following authentic Intelligence is received; Letters from Leghorn, dated August 18, say, "We have just now received certain Advice from the Archipelago, that the Russian Fleet, under Admiral Elphinstone, had at last come up with the Turks, near the Island of Scio, the 16th of July, N.
